PAL MOORE BEATS

Memphis Bantam Meets Tartar in St. Louisian, But Comes Away With the Margin in His Favor.

BY BOB PIGUE.

BY BOB PIGUE.

They all look alike to Pai Moore, the uncrowned bantam champlon of the world. Monday night at the Southern Athletic club. Memphis, Pai decisively outpointed Jimmy Murphy, of St. Louis, in a whirlwind eight-round bout. Moore had seven out of the eight cantos to his credit, with one, the third, having been haived, it was in the third that Murphy made his best showing, when he stung Moore with a series of rights. Moore came out of the muss fighting and tattooed Murphy with gloves without number, and evened up the session. Every other round was Moore's. Murphy made a big hit with Memphis fans by his showing against Pai, and is to be matched here again.

START CAUTIOUSLY.

START CAUTIOUSLY.

The mill started slowly, with both boys waiting for the other to unlimber, but after the first minute Pal started his barrage of gloves, Stamming Murphy with a series of lefts and rights that left the faces of the St. Louistan a deep crimson. Murphy had his right hand cocked at all times anxious to get it over, but Pal cleverly evaded it. In the first Moore landed a hard right and then tripped himself un falling to the canvass. Some fans thought Murphy had scored a knockdown, but Pal was not even hit, and couldn't have been knocked-down, as no punch was landed on him at the time he went down. He was up before any count started.

The second was fast, with Moore raining in blows on Murphy's taw and body and dealing out punishment to the midsection. Moore started his famous jumping-jack tactics, and lit upon Murphy with a flock of wallops that had the Missourian bewildered. They were in each other's arms at the bell. In the third Murphy started out like a whirlwind, and surprised Moore's admirers and fans generally when the landed a hard right flush on Pal's faw. Pal was in a crouching attitude and was just preparing an offensive when Murphy shot over his right that stung Moore. Pai was apparently unhurt by the punch. Moore returned the fire with a volley of lefts and rights that Marphy assimilated without any sings of distress. Moore's fast finish halved the third. The third was the fastest of the en-

MURPHY AGGRESSIVE.

PAL HANDICAPPED.

Fal fought the fight with two bum hands, both paws being out of shape. Pal injured both hands during recent bouts, and stated after the fight Monday night that he could barely land a wallop on account of the pain. He is to meet Carl Tremaine on June 12, and a surgeon is working on his mitts now in an effort to get them ready for his next show.

BRITTON AND MINOR.

A bout that was better than a vau-ville show, was the four-round em-oglio between Keystone Jack Britton broglio between Keystone Jack Britton and Barting Minor, two bocal near-heavyweights. Both boys possess terriffe kicka in their sieeves, and they started many punches that would have kinacked the roof off had it landed. In the third round Britton landed a herd right that Minor ducked into and it almost tore Minors head off. However, the Battler gamely remained on his feet, and returned the sock with interest.

Interest Briston injected a lot of comedy into the oost, and had the fans laughing all the way. It was a treat to witness, and already fans are asking for a return match between the bair. Referse Hanck called the hour a draw after four rounds had been toiled.

Battling Arthur and Black Attells were the survivors in the battle royal and fought three rounds to a draw Tom Mix, the brunette movie star, stopped Young Roux in the third round, floux sent Mix to the floor in the first round, but after Mix had landed a hard joit in the jaw, Roux decided it was time to go home, and accordingly took the long count.

Burrhead Scott defeated Rowher Burrhead Scott defeated Hambons

Burchead Scott defeated Hambons Murphy in four terrific rounds of slugging Murphy was our on his feet in the taired, but runnaged to stay the distance. He took the wount of seven after Stopping a hard right-hand punch with his mouth. The punch turned Murphy head over heels, and he landed on the back of his bean.

A fair house whoessed the show which was one of the best of the season.

MAY FORM LEAGUE OF NEARBY TOWNS

There is a movement on to organize towns in West Tennessee into base-ball league.
The following towns are some that are included in the list Bartists collecting. Oakland, Neshoba and Elleuritale. r may want any information can get ame by writing W. D. Appling at sartlett, or the manager of the Collier Bartlett, or the manager of the confer ville team at Collierville. Tonn.

This movement is expected to revive the interest in country base bull as there will be some very keen rivalry among all the participating teams.

Johnny Kilbane To Retire From Ring

Johnny Kilbane. featherweight champion of the world, is through with boxing. The little warrfor announces that he will retire from the game for all time, and is today at work on a plan to select his successor. Kilbane has piled up a nice fortune during the eight years he held the tittle, and has little to worry about financially. Kilbane won his title from Abe Attell in a 20-round decision bout in Los Angeles, in 1912. The only knockout he ever suffered during a career that began in 1907, came when he tried to step out of the featherweight class to meet Benny Leonard, the lightweight champion, at Philadelphia, in 1917. Kilbane's seconds toesed in the towel when Johnny was practically helpless in third round.

a managerial job somewhere, as it it seemed that there was a premium on jumping in the Southern league. Dick Kauffman gave his contract a kick in the slat and teased it overboard, and then went to Atlanta and got the job of manager.

Word from Ntw Orleans regarding the last game of the Memphia New Orleans double header Monday is to the effect that Hughle Canavan, Chick left-hander, was given the razz by his own mates for his sulking and his indifferent work in the box. This news is not surprising, for it has been knewn far a long time that there are several members of the 1920 Tribe who are suffering from an acute stack of temperament.

fering from an acute strack of temperament.

The present array of Chicks is the most temperamental bunch of ball players that ever donned the cleated shoe. Manager John J. McGloskey, being a high-class gentieman and a man who is inclined to treat everybody fairly and equarely, has overdone the thing with some of his ball players, who have taken advantage of it. They have gotten to such a point that McCloskey has almost to beg a pitcher to go in and take his turn in the box. These are facts.

then went to Atlanta and got the job of manager.

The Nashville club officials are to blame. Had they disciplined Kauffman and suspended him for all time, it would have been a lesson to others who are figuring on taking the hop. They would have looked before they leaped.

But the Nashville officials couldn't refuse the tempting bait of 1,000 simoleons, and the result is that it has cost them two of the best ball players in the league.

Nobody can blame the players, for they know they can get away with it. Pairings for First Flight Find Mrs. Gaut Meeting Mrs. Duffield.

Kid Elberfeid, Little Rock manager, is still kicking up roughhouse in the Southern. CLEVELAND, June 8.—The Cleve-land Americans defeated the Pittshurgh Nationals in an exhibition game here yesterday, 5 to 3. Roy Ellam, manager of the Nash-ville Vols, is thinking of getting a Job in a kangaroo farm after the 1920 ball season is over. Roy will undoubtedly be able to qual-ify, as he has nad many dealings with kangaroos during the present season.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., June 5. Nash-ville was unable to overcome Birming-ham's lead and the visitors beat Nash-ville 6 to 5.

High Scores Feature Preliminaries Monday at Tri-State Fairgrounds and Many Contestants for Honors Certain

BY BOB PIGUE.

Tuesday morning bright and early. Tennessee devotes of the sport at-luring assembled at the Tri-State fairgrounds, where the getaway en the Tennesses state shoot was mate. About 125 shooters were due to face the traps and yell "Pull" before the sun was scheduled to go before the sun was scheduled to go down.

The preliminary events were held on Monday, when the first 100 birds were broken. Some excellent scoras were hung up, which may be taken to indicate that the competition is going to be keen before the state title has been decided.

The Theoday prepara calls for the first for birds at the state shailplop-ship to be shot fut. A total of 100 fargets will decided the state hours, with the sharest faving the best sour carrying out the nutle time bundless will be about Tuesday and 200 Wednesday.

Among the fair shooters present at the state shoot is Mrs Curtis King, of Memphis. Tennesser's woman's champion Mrs King is shooting well and the indications are that she will defend her honors without any diffi-culty.

Schmidt.

The Tennessee state title is vacant owing to the been death of Oline Wilhiams, of Nashville, who carried of the honors hast year. There are several likely candidates for the title at the state short and some lively competition will surely take place before the crown has been definiely placed upon some one's manly brow.

F. H. Yaneey claims the honor of the booby prize. Yaneey made his debut as a trapshooter Monday and smashed 8 out of a possible 100. He states that he has no allbit to offer except he couldn't hit 'em.
